Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Provide expert guidance and leadership to three teams in the production of well-crafted, sophisticated, complex analytic finished intelligence products on sometimes controversial or particularly difficult issues in support of United States (US) foreign policy and national security objectives related to terrorism in Africa & Europe; review final analytic products, written and oral, for clarity, organization, accuracy, and logic; effectively explain highly complex concepts and results to non-expert customers and tailor products to correspond to customer needs.
- Lead and direct teams in one or more areas of analytic expertise in substantive analytic and management operations; plan, coordinate, and oversee work in a manner consistent with fulfilling organizational directives and accomplishing mission goals.
- Lead and direct multiple teams in the gathering of political, social, cultural, economic, military, scientific, and historical information in support of US interests and CT policy objectives; guide teams in the development and identification of highly relevant information from internal and external sources to meet client needs.
- Set priorities and drive programs to ensure senior Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) officials are prepared for policy meetings throughout the Intelligence Community (IC) and US Government (USG).
- Develop and maintain working relationships with senior ODNI officials and, as necessary, principals throughout the intelligence and policy communities; identify issues and developments with internal and external peers, communicating regularly to exchange subject information.

- Evaluate and develop first-line supervisors; serve as a substantive supervisory and analytic resource, teaching and guiding team chiefs; provide substantive feedback to include career development counseling and skills development.
- Develop the substantive analytic and management skills of subordinate employees and supervisors, and contribute to the broader corporate mission of the organization.
- Develop and continually expand personal knowledge in area of expertise and achieve a government-wide reputation as a subject matter expert in this area.
- Serve as the primary approver for the allocation of resources including but not limited to training, travel, and contracts; advise senior leadership on resource needs for the entire unit. Represent the group as personnel panels and at corporate Board and other administration and personnel related meetings.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Approximately eight or more years of related work experience
- Experience conceptualizing and editing analytic papers (short and long) for purposes of clarity, concision, and logical argumentation
- Superior and recognized analytic and critical thinking skills, including superior ability to think strategically
- Proven ability to develop and evaluate employees using performance reviews, direct feedback, and through the use of exceptional communication skills

Desired Requirements

- Experience working Counterterrorism issues or in any discipline focused on Africa or Europe, including experience leading in a crisis
- Experience supporting and briefing IC Agency Seniors, Congressional staff and members, and/or policymakers
- Experience with resource management concepts such as budgeting, hiring, and building Programs of Analysis
